Ann Garrett: Candidate for Bromley Town

Ann Garrett is a performing arts lecturer and has been a Green Party member for over 20 years, standing as a candidate in local, GLA and general elections.

She is secretary of Bromley Borough CND, Local Groups Liaison Officer of Bromley Green Party, co-convenor of Bromley Peace Council, co-chair of SOLH [Save Our Local Hospitals and Services – Bexley, Bromley and Greenwich], joint co-ordinator of Bromley FoE and a member of Amnesty International, Bromley Civic Society, Bromley TUC, NTAG [Nuclear Trains Action Group], and Bromley TU Pensioners Action Association.

She has been involved in local campaigns to improve air quality, expose homelessness/housing needs, oppose the expansion of Biggin Hill Airport and the transportation of nuclear waste trains through Bromley. She has participated in local and London anti-fascist and Black Lives Matter demonstrations and supported the UNITE campaigns to save public services in Bromley – particularly the library service and is challenging plans for high-rise developments in Bromley town centre, especially those that have little affordable and no social housing. These will impact seriously on the heritage and conservation areas.

Supporting the school climate strikers and XR/FoE activities are on-going involvements, and she has recently organised Cop26 climate awareness performances urging Bromley Council to declare a climate emergency and significantly reduce pollution. Creating more 20 mph areas, electric charging points and 'green' new jobs are important priorities in aiding this.

She is particularly proud that that The Green Party is an international party, and feels that it is vital for it to be voice of challenge and positive change in local, national and world-wide issues.

Working for investment in a Green New Deal, preserving green belt land, a low carbon economy, public ownership of essential services, and combating climate change are areas to which she is committed.
